

WHO WE ARE

BOLOBATHABA MEDIA GROUP is a film and digital media production company and multimedia academy. The business was established 2010 with offices in the tropical town of Tzaneen in Limpopo Province, South Africa.

This groundbreaking business was founded by multiple award-winning filmmaker and social entrepreneur, MOLATELO BOSSMAN as a powerhouse of local film productions and a service company for big international film projects that are interested in the untapped virgin locations in the region.

AFRICA INSTITUTE OF MULTIMEDIA was born out of the need to develop skills locally to support the vision. Today we run programmes that offer qualifications in film & tv production, as well as journalism. We are now working on expanding our offering to include the much needed skills such as drone operating and interactive media.

While the film sector is still largely underdeveloped in the area, there are visible signs of GROWTH not only in the development of film projects but also in capacitating the sector through skills development and transfer.

AFRICA
INSTITUTE OF MULTIMEDIA

The ACADEMY is accredited with MICT SETA and QCTO to offer the following South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) aligned qualifications:

FILM & TV PROD. OPERATIONS NQF 4

FILM & TV PRODUCTION NQF 5

JOURNALISM NQF 5

Molately Bossman
MANAGING DIRECTOR
& FILMMAKER

Molately Bossman is an international award-winning filmmaker and social entrepreneur with over 20 years of experience in the film industry.

Before venturing into business as an independent filmmaker, content creator and philanthropist, Molately worked as a freelancer for local and international production companies and also worked for broadcasters such as SABC, Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC Australia) Africa Bureau and eNCA.

She is the recipient of United Nations Media Award 2007 and South African Film and Television Awards (SAFTAs) 2021 Outstanding Provincial Contributor Award for the developmental work she's doing in training and mentoring young filmmakers and digital content creators in her home province of Limpopo, among other accolades.

Her passion for skills development and transfer led to her working with emerging filmmakers as a story consultant and mentor through National Film and Video Foundation (NFVF) and Kwazulu Natal Film Commission.

Molately's debut documentary/feature When Babies Don't Come (2018) won multiple awards internationally, and also nominated for several awards including AMAA 2019 in the best documentary category.

She is currently working on multiple film projects in various stages, scheduled for release in 2023.

+27 83 714 5648

Molately Bossman

@MissMolately

info@bolobathaba.co.za

HOW NOT TO HIJACK

QUEENSHIP

a film by Molately Bossman

CURRENT DOCUMENTARY FILM/REALITY SERIES PROJECTS

DEVELOPMENT

- Not Another Apartheid Story! (Documentary Short) 24' 2024
LOOKING FOR: Funding, Distribution

- David & Goliath (Investigative Documentary Reality) 12 x 30' 2024
LOOKING FOR: Funding, Distribution, Co-Production

- Midwives, (Documentary Reality Series) 24 x 30' 2024
LOOKING FOR: Distribution, Funders, Co-Production

- Always & Otherwise (Documentary Short) 24' 2023
LOOKING FOR: Distribution, Funders

PRODUCTION

- How Not To Hijack Queenship, (Documentary Feature) 70' 2023
LOOKING FOR: Distribution, Co-Funders
FUNDERS: NFVF

POST-PRODUCTION

- Let Alone Wash Hands, (Documentary Short) 48' 2023
CO-FUNDERS: NFVF, Bolobathaba Media Group
- Street Snappers, (Documentary Short) 24' 2023
LOOKING FOR: Distribution, Funding